04.08.2020

Overall take: European Union has agreed to reopen external borders with 14 countries outside of the EU. EU lifted travel restrictions for the following countries Australia, Canada, Georgia, Japan, Montenegro, Morocco, New Zealand, Rwanda, Serbia, South Korea, Thailand, Tunisia and Uruguay. Face masks increasingly mandatory in public spaces across Europe.

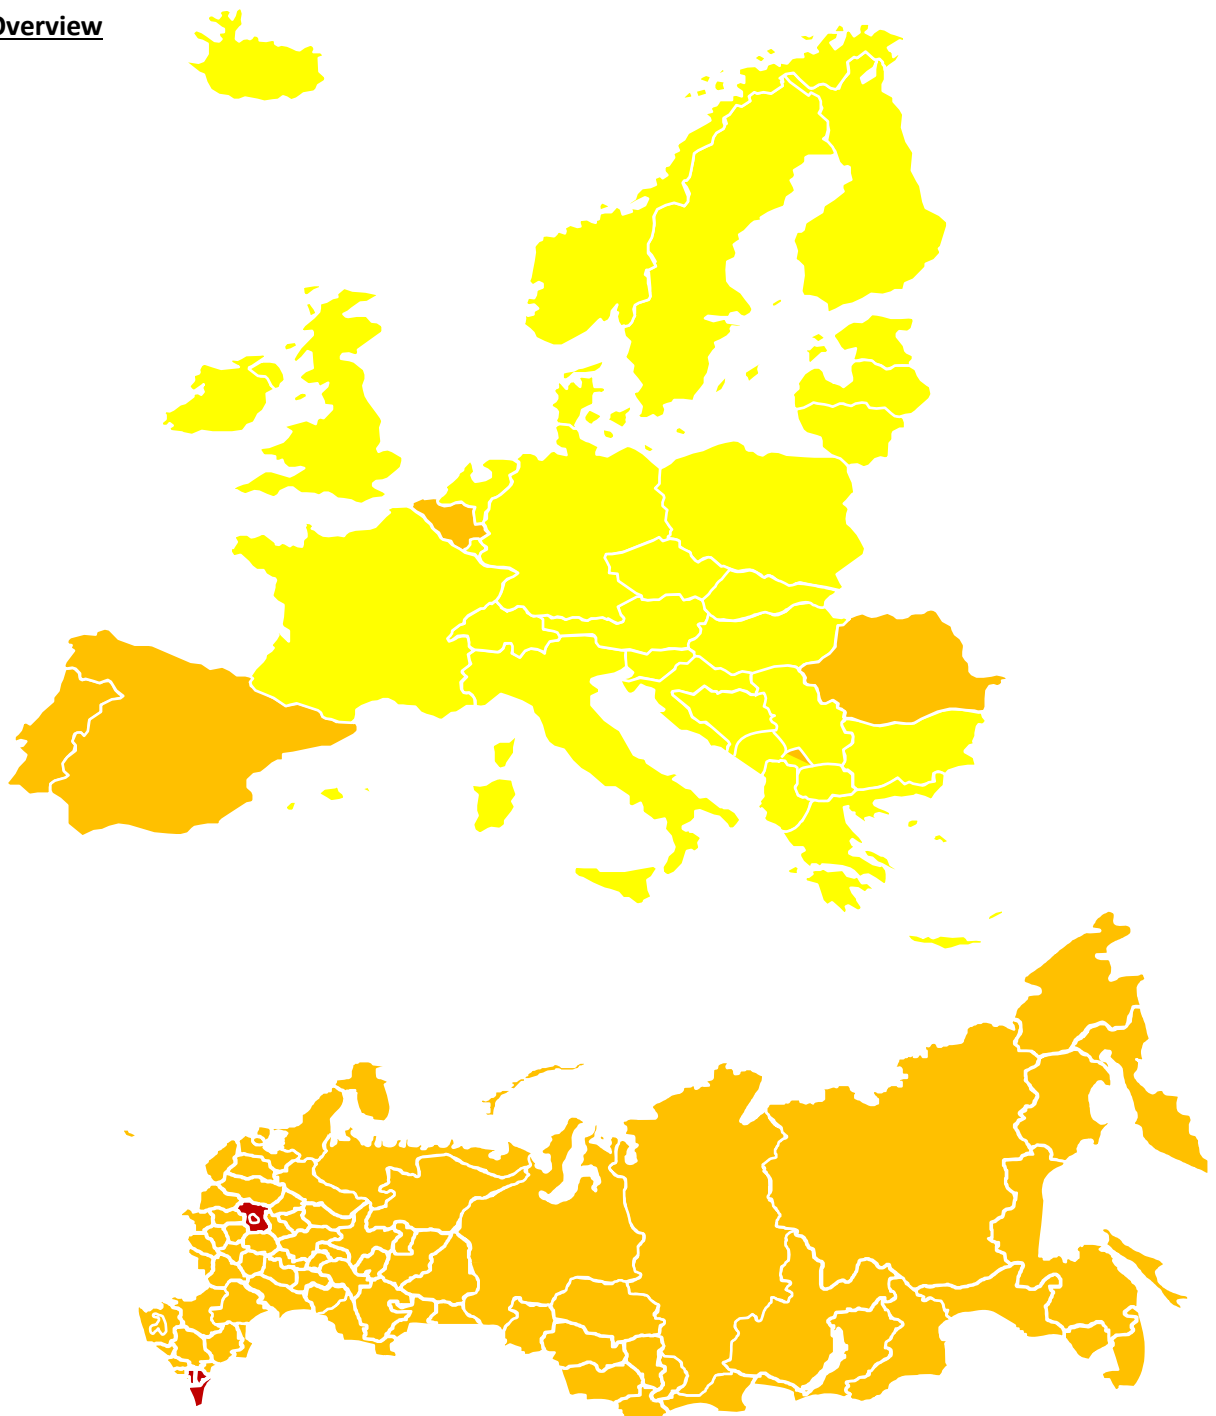

Attention: The EU Commission has enacted temporary restrictions on non-essential external travel to the European Union. Citizens, long term residents, family members of EU nationals, diplomats, healthcare workers, and transportation workers are exempt. These restrictions apply to all Schengen Area participant countries. Implementation depends on individual member countries. This policy applies to external EU borders only and internal EU border controls between member states are not affected. Some EU countries have implemented their own internal border restrictions.
