Data collection is performed manually, and sources include national foreign ministries, embassies and consular missions abroad, and select newspapers of record. Keep in mind, information on this sheet is subject to rapid change. This should be referenced as a starting point only. Travellers and their stakeholders are strongly encouraged to perform regular due diligence on travel destinations and transit routes before embarking on international travel as containment measures and travel restrictions change by the hour.

Overview: The European Union has agreed to reopen external borders with 12 countries outside of the EU. EU lifted travel restrictions for the following countries Algeria, Australia, Canada, Georgia, Japan, Morocco, New Zealand, Rwanda, South Korea, Thailand, Tunisia, and Uruguay. Face masks increasingly mandatory in public spaces across Europe. Europe is currently experiencing a resurgence in cases and more restrictions are expected to follow.

The EU Commission has enacted temporary restrictions on non-essential external travel to the European Union. Citizens, long term residents, family members of EU nationals, diplomats, healthcare workers, and transportation workers are exempt. These restrictions apply to all Schengen Area participant countries. Implementation depends on individual member countries. This policy applies to external EU borders only and internal EU border controls between member states are not affected. Some EU countries have implemented their own internal border restrictions.
